IS LARGEST HERD

CALDWELLS HAVE MORE ANGUS THAN ANYONE IN STATE.

BELIEVE IN ALFALFA

The 2,400-Acre Farm Near Burlington Junction is Operated by Twenty Regular Hands.

More than 300 head of pure bred Angus cattle, of which about half are breeding cows, are kept on the 2,400-acre farm of C. D. and E. F. Caldwell, near Burlington Junction. This is among the larger herds of pure bred Angus in the United States, and it is the largest in Missouri. The start in the building up of the herd began about 1907, soon after C. D. Caldwell returned to the farm after finishing a course in agriculture at the University of Illinois.

The above was written by F. B. Nichols, field editor for the Missouri Ruralist. Continuing, Mr. Nichols says in last week's issue of the Ruralist about the Caldwell herd and farm:

The Caldwells always have been extensively engaged in keeping live stock, and the change to the pure bred cattle came largely as a result of the increasing price of land. The soil around Burlington Junction is very fertile, and it is much in demand at good prices. Most of it is worth from $150 to $175 an acre, and some of it even more. It is quite obvious that one must have good cattle on land of this kind if he is to make a profit. Efficient beef producers and high priced land go together.

Good buildings have been erected, so the place is well equipped for cattle raising. Little effort is made, however, to give most of the animals more than ordinary care and feed; they are handled in a way that would be practicable on any Missouri farm. It is necessary to give some special attention to the animals that are being prepared for the show circuit and for the sales, of course.

There is some wonderfully good breeding behind the Caldwell herd. Especially are there some high class bulls at the head of the herd; all have winning show records. The five leading bulls are Undulata Blackcap 10 to 2d, Kiahoga, Ebony of A. 3d, Blackcap Star 2d and Kemp. There were 60 animals sold from this herd in a sale May 28 that averaged $263 a head, which is especially good considering the large number.

The ration for these animals is based on silage and leguminous hays, largely alfalfa. Especially good results have been obtained with the silage. There are two silos on the farm, a stave silo and a concrete block structure. The stave silo has fallen down twice; it is down now, and it will not be rebuilt, according to Mr. Caldwell. He is especially well pleased with the concrete silo.

Alfalfa has given good results both in quantity and the quality of hay, and the acreage is being rapidly increased. This crop is grown in place of the clover, and it tends to increase the length of the rotation. It has been very profitable, and Mr. Caldwell is very enthusiastic over it. In speaking of alfalfa as a crop for the Burlington Junction section, he said:

"Alfalfa will give a larger profit than red clover where it will do well, for it will produce more feed of a slightly higher value. There is certain to be a great extension in the acreage of this crop. One of the reasons why the increase in the acreage has been slow is that there have been many failures in getting a stand on account of improperly prepared seed beds. These failures have discouraged the farmers, of course.

We usually sow alfalfa on this farm in the fall, on soil that has been in a spring grain crop. The soil is plowed rather shallow just as soon as the shocks are removed, and it then is repeatedly worked with a disk until the seed is sown. This disking will make the soil firmer, and it will promote the formation of soluble plant food and the conservation of moisture.

"The ideal condition of a seedbed for alfalfa is to have it firm, with a little loose dirt on top. Be sure there is enough moisture in the soil at the time the seed is sown to germinate it, and to give the plants a good start. We sow the seed both ways, with a seeder. This seeding both ways is rather important, as it will keep one from having bare spots in the field."

Much of the plowing on this farm is done with a Big 4 tractor, which develops 30 horsepower on the drawbar. It pulls a Reeves plow, which consists of eight 14-inch bottoms. The cost of wages of the engineer and plowman, plowing with this outfit, Mr. Caldwell said, is 65 cents an acre, including the and the depreciation is figured on the basis of the outfit lasting 1,000 days. It burns about 5 gallons of gasoline an hour, when it is plowing from 6 to 7 inches deep in ordinary bottom loam soil.

The engine is equipped to burn kerosene, also, but the difference in the price of these fuels has not been high enough to cause Mr. Caldwell to adopt this fuel. He said that the engine would run better with the gasoline, although it will burn kerosene readily enough. A great deal less gasoline is burned, so the saving would not be so very large.

This plowing outfit has been a very profitable investment for Mr. Caldwell, for the plowing cost on this farm when horses are used is about $1.30 an acre. The outfit has been very satisfactory and the repair bill has been light. Little trouble has been encountered in the tractor packing the soil; of course, it is not used when the soil is too wet.

While it is true that a horse plow may run at times when the soil is too wet for a tractor, it is also true that a tractor may be run for a longer number of hours in the day; indeed, it may be run day and night if desired. Mr. Caldwell has not run the outfit at night, but he can readily enough. In rush times it is operated most of the time in daylight. When the engine is not being used for plowing it is run on other farm work, such as silo filling, threshing, hauling and running the feed mill.

The outfit is of special advantage in plowing for wheat, Mr. Caldwell said. Wheat plowing comes at a very hot time, and the temptation is to run the plow shallow, and thus increase the speed. The early plowings usually give the larger yields; it is important that the soil should be stirred soon after the grain shocks are removed. One can get over the land rapidly if an engine is used.

About 20 hands are used the year around on the Caldwell farm, and this is sometimes increased to twice that many in the summer. The married men are paid $35 a month, and they are given the ordinary extras like a house, garden, fruit, chickens and the like. The unmarried men get $30 a month, and they board with the married men, 16 cents a meal being paid for this service by Mr. Caldwell. In addition, some of the men who are doing specialized work, like caring for the cattle and running the tractor, get larger wages.

The Caldwell farm is a wonderfully well organized place, where a remarkably high class Angus herd is kept. The success of his herd is pointing the way for other men who are interested in this breed in the west.

The change in the live stock methods on the Caldwell farm in the last ten years illustrates in a general way the evolution in farming in northern Missouri. Up until the start was made with the Angus many hundreds of steers were fed every year, and there was considerable profit made in this work, too, in the early days, before the rise in price of land and grain. With the upward trend of prices for feeds and the feeders, however, it was found that the profits were decreased. Grade cattle could not make a very efficient use of the crops from high priced land.

Increasing land prices have done much to force better methods of live stock farming in Missouri, for scrub stock cannot be expected to return the profit on high priced land that good animals will give. On some farms there was a change to grain farming after this increase in land values but grain farming has failed to give so good a profit in Missouri as live stock, when it is efficiently managed.

GILBERT CASE IS DISMISSED.

City Withdrew Charge This Morning For Lack of Evidence—Parle Trial Tomorrow.

Because of lack of evidence against him, the city this morning dismissed the charge against Chester Gilbert that he had furnished liquor to David Ferries, an habitual drunkard and a man barred from the saloons.

Gilbert was the fifth man arrested on this charge last week, and the first one yet to be freed from it. Edgar Orr, Frank Seull and William Blatter were found guilty. T. J. Parle's trial is set for tomorrow morning, having been postponed once because he was sick.

GILLAM'S TALK SOLDIERS RETURN

DISCUSSES BEFORE CLUB THE CHOOSING OF A VOCATION.

BUSINESS IS CHRISTIAN

Principals of Christ's Religion Are the Fundamentals of All Success, He Says.

Business furnishes as many persons with a vocation as all other fields of work combined, yet most of the persons in business have not chosen it as their vocation, but have taken it up by accident, because circumstances have forced them into it, said S. G. Gillam, president of the Gillam-Jackson and Loan and Trust company, to the members of the Young People's club of the First Presbyterian church last night.

"In fact, that is my own situation, for as a young man I had planned for other work than that in which I am now engaged."

He told his hearers that many of them would do well to choose a business career, choose it carefully, for the business world is in great need of more Christians in it. A business conscience is a reality, he said, despite the fact that some persons still scoff at the idea, and it is to strengthen and increase this business conscience that more Christians are needed in addition to those already in business.

Mr. Gillam does not believe that a person need be discouraged at the idea of trying to engage in a business and run it according to his religious ideals. The two fit well together toward making a success, for the fundamentals of Christianity are the very principles which the business world today regards as necessary to build a strong and permanent business, one that will retain the confidence of the people.

As to which line of business should be chosen, Mr. Gillam said that the only advice he could give was to follow that for which you have the strongest inclination. The struggle in that field will be hard enough.

He gave two general rules fundamental to success in any line. The first is: Be industrious. Hard work, and continued hard work, is the only thing that brings success. The second is: Be frugal. The high cost of living in the home and in conducting business today makes it more than ever necessary to watch expenses, he said.

In defining success, Mr. Gillam said that it is not to be counted in dollars and cents. The man who makes an honest living, supports his family or those dependent on him comfortably and saves just enough to keep him independent in his old age has made a tremendous success, he thinks.

Mr. Gillam closed his talk with the following statement:

"Unless you have a positive inclination toward some profession, try to select some line of business that is attractive to you, work, and I think you will never be dissatisfied with the results."

SOLDIERS RETURN

COMPANY F PRAISED AT NEVADA ENCAMPMENT.

HONOR IN SHAM BATTLE

Prepare For Next Year's Campaign in the Ozarks—Pay Roll Curiously Made Out.

Company F returned last night from the annual encampment of the Missouri National Guard at Nevada, and brought back with it its share of the honors of the week's work at war.

First Lieut. Loren DeMotte, who commanded the company, said that his men were the first to break through the line of defense of the Blue Army in the sham battle. The company was highly complimented by the regimental officers for its conduct and drill. Not one of the forty-two men had to be disciplined for any breach of regulations.

The work was hard and the weather was hot one or two days, but Lieut. DeMotte said the men did not complain and took a real interest in their work. They were well fed and had comfortable quarters, and the men enjoyed the week in camp.

Three of the men were overcome with heat and had to be taken to the hospital, but their cases were not serious. In each case the men were all right again in the course of two or three hours.

General Clark, commander of the Missouri National Guard, said that the Fourth regiment is the finest disciplined body of men he has ever seen in the National Guard.

Lieut. DeMotte said today that the company here would begin at once to prepare for next year's encampment. The men will be drilled every Thursday night, and exhibition drills will be given frequently. The company intends to work for the best possible perfection in its drill, preparatory to the trip to the Ozark mountains next summer, where the encampment will be held.

At next summer's encampment the state troops will be divided into two divisions. They will be landed in the Ozarks, about fifty miles from each other and will begin a campaign, coming together in a sham battle. The remainder of the time in camp, which will be about fifteen days, will be spent in drills and target practice on grounds near some one of the Ozark rivers.

The total amount of pay received by the members of Company F for their week in camp was $350.74. In making out the pay roll, Lieut. DeMotte had to specify the exact number of coins and bills of different denomination necessary to give each man his pay. He received five twenty-dollar bills, three ten-dollar bills, fourteen five-dollar bills, seventy two-dollar bills, five one-dollar bills, seven fifty-cent pieces, five quarters, seven dimes, four nickels and nine cents.

A GOOD CONCERT SUNDAY.

More Attended the Music at the Normal Park Yesterday Afternoon Than Week Ago.

The Maryville band gave its second Sunday afternoon concert at the Normal park yesterday. The program was a good one and was well played.

More persons attended the concert yesterday than did a week ago. The crowds have not come up to the size of those of last summer, however, and the support given the band is not so good as it was last year. Most of the persons attending were Maryville citizens.

For the present, anyway, the band will continue to give the Sunday concerts.

Announce Birth of Son.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rask of Chicago announce the birth of a son, Friday, July 17. Mrs. Rask was formerly Miss Mabel McCrary of this city.

W. F. Eaton of Highland, Kan., arrived in the city Saturday evening to visit his son, George R. Eaton, superintendent of the Hanamo company.

ELLISON TO BE SPECIAL JUDGE.

Maryville Jurist Has Been Called to Sit in Harrison and Mercer County Criminal Cases.

Judge W. C. Ellison will go to Bethany, Mo., Friday to sit as special judge in a criminal case.

Monday, September 7, he will go to Princeton, Mo., to act as special judge in the murder case that is attracting so much attention just recently. It is the case in which Byrd Jones, Frank Rollins and Charley Bryant are charged with the murder of H. P. Sisco, night policeman. Sisco was killed in trying to arrest thieves who had broken into one of the business houses. The accused men are thought to be the thieves.

MANY ATTENDED UNION SERVICES

Half Had to Stand Last Night, But More Chairs Will Be Provided Hereafter.

The first of the open air union church services was attended last night by nearly twice as many persons as chairs had been provided for. This lack of seats was due, however, to a mistake in the order, and at the rest of the services enough chairs will be provided for all.

The change of place from the Franklin school grounds to the square proved very convenient. The lights and speaker's stand were already at hand, and with Main street scrubbed and roped off and furnished with chairs it made a very comfortable place for the service. Many cars were parked along Fourth street.

The Rev. L. M. Hale of the First Baptist church will preach at next Sunday's services, and the Presbyterian choir will furnish the music.

TOPEKA SCHOOL MAN HERE.

H. B. Wilson Lectures to Normal Students On Educational Topics.

H. B. Wilson, superintendent of the public schools of Topeka, Kan., is at the Normal school this week. This morning he lectured to the students in assembly.

In beginning, Mr. Wilson said that as nearly as he had been able to observe the educational conditions of Missouri, the correspond to those of Kansas. In each state one-third of the entire teaching force is in some sort of summer school, either state university, agricultural college or normal school. This fact, according to Mr. Wilson, is one of the favorable indications to be seen in the ranks of the teaching profession today.

"The responsibility of the teacher today," he said, "is that of reaching all of the children of all of the people."

He added that the richness of the modern curriculum is significant. The common objection which is raised to it is that so many things cannot be well done. But if every child is reached the curriculum must contain the widest diversity of subject matter.

The old curriculum, working on the hypothesis that the child is an adult in miniature, was narrow and contained barely the fundamentals of education. The modern conception of the child is changing. We know that his physical growth is not a gradual process, but goes 'by fits and starts,' and that in each period of a child's growth some different thing will appeal to him. Consequently music, drawing, agriculture and several types of vocational training have been added to the curriculum of today.

As the child undergoes this normal series of changes, the school must be broad enough that the uppermost interest in the child's mind at the time may feed itself to the full. This gives the child some conception of the thing which he would like to take up as a life work.

"Many instructors think," said Mr. Wilson, "that the great and good men are the people who are made to do the things which they cannot do. This is not true, nor can it ever be so.

"The broader opportunity of the public mind, then, is not only to give the child a more comprehensive view of the studies, but to give him some idea of what he is to do, and last but not least, to give him a sympathetic appreciation of what other people do."

IRON WEAPON DOES MOST DAMAGE IN FARMERS' FIGHT.

TROUBLE IS OVER ROAD

Ben Auffert Starts Quarrel With Overseer A. J. McKillop and Their Sons Join In.

Ben Auffert struck A. J. McKillop in the face with his fist. McKillop's son, Will, cut a gash in Auffert's head with a spade. Leo, son of Auffert, hit A. J. McKillop on the back of the head with a club. Will swung his spade a second time and cut a gash in Leo's head, and by that time the whole family got mixed up in the fight.

All this happened this noon at the Auffert farm, south of Maryville, and is a result of the trouble Mr. Auffert has been having over the public road along his place.

Mr. Auffert is now under $200 bond to appear in the September term of circuit court, charged with obstructing the highway. He had been ordered, as the law requires, to cut his hedge fence that bordered the road, but instead of that built a wire fence outside of the hedge. This fence, it is claimed, is in the public road, and the trouble over this question has been going on for more than a month.

Last Friday Mr. Auffert came to Maryville to confer with the county court and township board, asking them to inspect his road. He said that the drainage ditches at the side of the road had been made too deep and the road graded in such a way that he could not drive on it with a buggy.

Saturday, Floyd Westfall and John Thornhill of the county court and E. H. Balmum of the township board went to inspect the road. They found it in good condition and commended A. J. McKillop, the road overseer, for his work on it. They told him to dig the ditch on the Auffert side a little deeper. They had finished it just at noon, when Mr. Auffert and his son, Leo, came up to them, and Mr. Auffert asked where he could get enough dirt to fill the ditch. Mr. McKillop replied that he could get it almost any place around there, and with that Mr. Auffert struck him.

Will McKillop then took a spade with which they had been working and struck Mr. Auffert, cutting a gash in his forehead. Leo Auffert struck Mr. McKillop in the back of the head with a club, and in turn received a cut on the head from the spade by Will McKillop. By that time Fred Auffert and Mrs. Auffert had come from the house. A general fist fight and argument ensued.

No one was seriously hurt in the affair, although a doctor had to be called and took several stitches in the wounds of Mr. Auffert and his son.

Mr. McKillop came to town at once to see the prosecuting attorney, but there probably will be no charges of assault made against either of the parties.

HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Young Weller of Maitland in Serious Condition From Injuries.

Hiram Weller of Maitland was seriously injured Sunday night when the auto he was driving turned turtle and went over a 12-foot embankment into a ditch. Both young Weller and his companion, Paul Ricker, were pinned under the car, but Ricker escaped unhurt. The accident happened about 10 o'clock Sunday night, within a short distance of Maitland, and was discovered in a few moments by some passing autoists. Weller was pinned under the driver's seat and was extricated with difficulty. His shoulder is badly burned by the acid in the batteries in the car. He suffered internal injuries and is in a critical condition. No improvement was found in his symptoms Monday.

The injured young man is a son of J. Ed Weller of Maitland and a grandson of E. F. Weller, president of the Farmers bank of that place.

SUNDAY'S BALL GAMES.

A Day of Ninth Inning Rallies and Victories for Maryville Teams.

In a slugging ninth inning rally the Maryville All Stars yesterday overcame a two-run lead and defeated Shenandoah 4 to 3.

The game was played before one of the largest crowds at Riffe's Park this season. Until the eighth inning the All Stars did not score. Then they made one run. Coming to bat in the last half of the ninth, with the score standing 3 to 1 in Shenandoah's favor, Miller knocked a three base hit. He was brought in on Ernest's single who in turn scored on Carmichael's three bagger. Vaughn made first on a fielder's choice when Carmichael was thrown out at home, stole second and scored the winning run a moment later on Alley's single over third. Carmichael struck out twelve men. The All Stars will probably play Hopkins next Sunday.

Pirates Defeat Guilford 5-3.

The Maryville Pirates went to Guilford Sunday and defeated the Guilford ball team 5 to 3. With the score 3 to 1 against them, the Pirates came to bat in the first half of the ninth inning, made four runs and shut Guilford out in the last half of the inning. The feature of the game was a triple play by the Pirates, Woodard to soft to Tilson. Each team made six errors. The Pirates made four and Guilford three errors.

HINDUS USE BULLETS AND HOT WATER

Rejected Asiatics Sweep Canadian Officers Off Ship.

Vancouver, B. C., July 20.—Hindus aboard the Japanese steamer Komagata Maru here repelled a boarding party of armed guards sent out by the Canadian immigration authorities with bullets and a stream of hot water, after they had forcibly taken the stokers from the hold of the vessel.

Several white men were seriously injured attempting to board the Komagata Maru and two or three Hindus shot. The white men were roughly handled by the Hindus on gaining the deck.

Those injured are Chief of City Police MacLennan, seriously; Captain Robertson of the Sea Lion, cut over eye by flying glass; Inspector Scott, knocked unconscious; Detectives Rice and Scotts. Detective Tinsdale, cut on lip; L. H. Taylor and G. L. Minnitt both injured about the head. Taylor seriously; Detective McLeod, arm hurt; Detective McArthur, injured, fell overboard; Inspector Wilher, hit on head, badly cut.

The steamer arrived three months ago with 350 Hindus, who claimed as British subjects the right to land in Canada. The Canadian immigration officials refused them admission on the grounds that they were undesirable persons.

The report as given out by the immigration department states that "shortly after the captain of the steamer reported that the passengers prevented him from getting steam up and asked for assistance, 106 policemen and immigration officials went out to the vessel in the largest tug available, but were unable to gain the deck of the steamer in the face of the stubborn resistance offered by the Hindus on board, who, from all parts of the ship, hurled down on the officers coal, iron bars, pieces of machinery, hatchets and clubs, injuring many men and smashing the windows of the tug."

St. Louis, July 20.—Felix E. Anderson, assistant to the president of the St. Louis Terminal Railroad association, was shot in his office at the Union station by a man who entered the office and demanded to see President McChesney.

Examination disclosed that Mr. Anderson had been shot in the lung and that the bullet had lodged near the lower part of the spinal column. The wound is serious.

After the shooting the would be assassin ran out of the office and disappeared.

He is said to have been a speaker almost nightly from the court house steps, much used by agitators. As far as known he had no personal grievance against Anderson.

Ice Field Halts Rescue Ship.

Nome, July 20.—The ice breaking steamer Kit arrived here from a cruise in the Arctic. The captain of the Kit reported that he tried for fourteen days to break through the ice field to reach Wrangell island and to take off the men of the Stefansson exploring expedition, who have been marooned there since the old whaler Karluk was crushed in the ice last winter. The ice field was so heavy that the Kit was unable to approach nearer than 120 miles to Wrangell island, and finally abandoned the attempt.

This Is The Last Week Of Our Annual July Clearance Sale

EVERY article in the various departments throughout our entire store was bought with the idea of selling it at a certain fixed price—a legitimate price.

As we must have very large stocks in order to give the best service, it is only natural that this season each year finds a certain quantity of merchandise in nearly every department.

The sole object of this annual July Clearing event is to clean up these stocks and enable us to start all over again with each department filled with new goods—and it also gives to the people of Nodaway county the opportunity to obtain this seasonable merchandise at prices far below their actual values.

It is an annual demonstration that there is a vast difference in "bargains," just as there is a vast difference in values—and the number of new friends it makes for this store become greater each year.

The "Schuttler" Costs Less Per Year Than Any Other Wagon Made

The cheapest priced wagon is the one which will save you the most money—and there is far more than the first cost to be taken into consideration with most wagons.

But with "The Old Reliable Peter Schuttler" it's different. With it, the first cost is practically the only cost. It's built right and stays right. It saves repair bills; it avoids break-downs; it reduces the after-purchase expense—and it wears longer than any other wagon built.

And with all its cost-reducing, time and trouble-saving features, the first cost of the "Peter Schuttler Wagon" is only slightly more than the first cost of the inferior makes.

And every cent of the extra cost goes into extra quality. There's no more profit on a "Peter Schuttler Wagon" than on the so-called other standard makes.

The difference in price is due entirely to the difference in material and the difference in the way this material is put together. It is this difference which makes the "Peter Schuttler" by far the cheapest priced of all wagons in the long run.

Nothing but the very highest grade, specially selected hickory and white oak is good enough for the "Peter Schuttler Wagon." And even it does not come up to the Schuttler standard until it is seasoned by natural air-dried process for from three to five years in sheds specially built for the purpose.

Great pains are taken by long-experienced wagon makers and skilled blacksmiths in the manufacture of the "Peter Schuttler Wagon." The best of refined iron is used, and it's shrunk on hot, thus charring and preserving the wood and insuring a perfect fit. Every wheel is measured and its tire welded to exact size, then brought to a cherry heat, and shrunk into place by being plunged into cold water, in the same way that the old original Peter Schuttler did it sixty-nine years ago. That is why the tires never come loose on a "Peter Schuttler Wagon."

Every piece of wood in the "Schuttler" gear is given a bath in boiled linseed oil, thereby closing the pores and protecting it against moisture. The paint is ground in linseed oil and then spread on smoothly and evenly with a brush—not dipped. It takes three years to get an axle in right condition for a "Peter Schuttler Wagon," and even then it must pass the regular rigid inspection to which every "Schuttler" part is subjected before it can be used.

These are only a few of the many reasons why a "Peter Schuttler" is the most economical wagon you can buy.

Come in and inspect it.

HUERTA NOT IN CHEERFUL MOOD

Forced Delay in Leaving Mexico

Vexas Ex-President.

EXPECTS TO GO TOMORROW.

Fallen Despot and General Blanquet Will Sail on German Cruiser Dresden and Rest of Party on Chartered Mexican Steamer.

Puerto Mexico, July 20.—Ex-President Huerta and his party expect to leave here tomorrow. Generals Huerta and Blanquet, accompanied by three or four aides, will sail on the German cruiser Dresden. The others will go on the steamer Mexico of the Mexican Navigation company, which, it is said, has been chartered for this purpose. The presidential guards will leave early in the morning for the capital.

The refusal of President Carbajal to let the fugitive president have the use of the gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza has occasioned undisguised chagrin, but there appears to be no remedy. As if to give color, however, to the assumption that the government really needs these boats, the Zaragoza put out to sea, laying her course in the direction of Havana.

The only order the commander received was to go to Havana. It was reported that the Zaragoza intended to pick up at that port some prominent Constitutionalists and bring them to Mexico to enter into personal negotiations with the new provisional president.

The United States cruiser Des Moines, which has been lying off the harbor, immediately followed the Zaragoza.

General Huerta spent the entire day in his car smoking an endless number of cigarettes and chatting with friends. His humor was much less cheerful than at any time since leaving the capital and those about treated him with the greatest consideration.

ZAPATISTAS ACTIVE

Banditti Pillaging and Burning Villages Near Mexico City.

Mexico City, July 20.—Fugitives who arrived here from Contreras and Tizapan, villages a few miles from Mexico City, report a serious movement by the forces under Zapata. Contreras was attacked by the Zapatistas. The garrison, consisting of seven or eight federal soldiers, was driven off, and the Zapatistas, to the number of several thousand, started pillaging and burning the houses. Tizapan is only twelve miles from here and connects directly with the capital by an electric railway.

Many of the inhabitants of villages in the federal district are fleeing to the capital for protection. They fear outrages and an attack by the Zapata adherents on the suburbs.

Federal troops were dispatched from the capital to check the advance of the marauders.

CHICAGO VICE WAR

Remnants of Segregated District to Go as Result of Killing.

Chicago, July 20.—The wiping out of the last remnants of Chicago's old segregated district was promised as a result of the pistol battle there Thursday night, in which one detective was killed and two policemen and two citizens shot.

The beginning of two investigations into the tragedy was marked by State's Attorney Hoyne's charge that the police version of the shooting was untrue. The police had asserted that the two squads of detectives and plain clothes men did not recognize each other and lost their heads.

The state's attorney also declared that facts had been suppressed, and sent his own men into the district to make a complete report.

The renewal of the war on vice in the district was marked by several raids. Squads of police visited several houses, and, finding them deserted, broke up the furniture, tore out the telephones and made the places uninhabitable.

Will Probe Charges.

Washington, July 20.—Charges made by Benjamin L. Dulaney of Bristol, Tenn., that the Pennsylvania system and its allied lines have hotted up southern coal fields in the interest of the coal trust will be investigated by a special senate committee, headed by Senator Bryan, whose hearings opened today.

Send Money to Ireland.

New York, July 20.—Ten thousand dollars of a promised fund of $100,000 was forwarded by the United Irish League of America to John E. Redmond to be used for the Nationalist cause in Ireland.

I. W. W. Cause Near Riot in Aberdeen. Aberdeen, S. D., July 20.—Ten men and one woman are in jail here as a result of defying Mayor Hall and the police and trying to hold an Industrial Workers of the World meeting on the streets. A near riot followed.

Leaps or Falls to His Death.

Chicago, July 20.—Frank Drew leaped or fell out of a fourth story window at 111 East Grand avenue. He was dead when the police reached him.

MME. CAILLAUX PLACED ON TRIAL

Slayer of Figaro Editor Maintains Calm Demeanor.

SECRET WAY TO COURT ROOM

Subterranean Passage and Mysterious Stairs Used—Seven Physicians Will Testify For Defense Among Number of Additional Ones Summoned.

Paris, July 20.—The trial of Madame Caillaux for the killing of Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro, began today. Madame Caillaux is maintaining a calm demeanor and expressed great confidence in the outcome of the case. Madame Caillaux left her old quarters in St. Lazare prison in an automobile, accompanied by three inspectors, and was transferred to the Palais de Justice, where she occupies a cell adjoining the one once occupied by Marie Antoinette.

To reach the assize court she was conducted through a subterranean passage and by secret stairways and thus escaped the eyes of the curious.

Counsel for the defense has summoned additional witnesses, among whom are seven physicians. They are expected to give testimony regarding M. Calmette's wounds.

Madame Caillaux was visited by her husband, Joseph Caillaux, the former minister of finance and once premier of France. Because of the high position of those connected with the case the trial is attracting intense interest.

Madame Caillaux shot Calmette on March 16 in the office of Figaro. In the indictment against the defendant full weight is given to the state of mind to which Madame Caillaux was reduced by M. Calmette's campaign against her husband, which is designated as "personal and violent." The indictment also recites that the crime was committed with premeditation, and it is around the question of premeditation that the struggle between the prosecution and the defense will be fought.

Judge Louis Albanel is presiding over the trial of Madame Caillaux and Maître Labori is acting as chief counsel for the defense.

FIND BODIES OF GUARDS

Two Were Slain in Battle at Arkansas Mine.

Fort Smith, Ark., July 20.—The bodies of two mine guards were found in the woods near the Prairie Creek mine. The men participated in the battle with miners at the Bache-Denman mines.

According to the affidavit of L. C. Thomas, himself a mine guard, and participant in the battle, he and six other employees left the mine while the fighting was at its height and sought to break through the attackers.

The seven were captured, taken to a log house in the woods, and held for hours until two state officers arrived. Then it was one of the union men shot John Baskin, and as he fell fired a shot at Clarence Sylesberry and sent a bullet into his body as he fell.

IS LARGEST HERD

CALDWELLS HAVE MORE ANGUS THAN ANYONE IN STATE.

BELIEVE IN ALFALFA

The 2,400-acre Farm Near Burlington Junction is Operated by Twenty Regular Hands.

More than 300 head of pure bred Angus cattle, of which about half are breeding cows, are kept on the 2,400-acre farm of C. D. and E. F. Caldwell, near Burlington Junction. This is among the larger herds of pure bred Angus in the United States, and it is the largest in Missouri. The start in the building up of the herd began about 1907, soon after C. D. Caldwell returned to the farm after finishing a course in agriculture at the University of Illinois.

The above was written by F. B. Nichols, field editor for the Missouri Ruralist. Continuing, Mr. Nichols says in last week's issue of the Ruralist about the Caldwell herd and farm:

The Caldwells always have been extensively engaged in keeping live stock, and the change to the pure breeds came largely as a result of the increasing price of land. The soil around Burlington Junction is very fertile, and it is much in demand at good prices. Most of it is worth from $150 to $175 an acre, and some of it even more. It is quite obvious that one must have good cattle on land of this kind if he is to make a profit. Efficient beef producers and high priced land go together.

Good buildings have been erected, so the place is well equipped for cattle raising. Little effort is made, however, to give most of the animals more than ordinary care and feed; they are handled in a way that would be practicable on any Missouri farm. It is necessary to give some special attention to the animals that are being prepared for the show circuit and for the sales, of course.

There is some wonderfully good breeding behind the Caldwell herd. Especially are there some high class bulls at the head of the herd; all have winning show records. The five leading bulls are Undulata Blackcap 10 2d, Kiahoga, Ebony of A. 3d, Blackcap Star 2d and Kemp. There were 60 animals sold from this herd in a sale May 28 that averaged $263 a head, which is especially good considering the large number.

The ration for these animals is based on silage and leguminous hays, largely alfalfa. Especially good results have been obtained with the silage. There are two silos on the farm, a stave silo and a concrete block structure. The stave silo has fallen down twice; it is down now, and it will not be rebuilt, according to Mr. Caldwell. He is especially well pleased with the concrete silo.

Alfalfa has given good results both in quantity and the quality of hay, and the acreage is being rapidly increased. This crop is grown in place of the clover, and it tends to increase the length of the rotation. It has been very profitable, and Mr. Caldwell is very enthusiastic over it. In speaking of alfalfa as a crop for the Burlington Junction section, he said:

"Alfalfa will give a larger profit than red clover where it will do well, for it will produce more feed of a slightly higher value. There is certain to be a great extension in the acreage of this crop. One of the reasons why the increase in the acreage has been slow is that there have been many failures in getting a stand on account of improperly prepared seed beds. These failures have discouraged the farmers, of course.

We usually sow alfalfa on this farm in the fall, on soil that has been in a spring grain crop. The soil is plowed rather shallow just as soon as the shocks are removed, and it then is repeatedly worked with a disk until the seed is sown. This disk will make the soil firmer, and it will promote the formation of soluble plant food and the conservation of moisture.

"The ideal condition of a seedbed for alfalfa is to have it firm, with a little loose dirt on top. Be sure there is enough moisture in the soil at the time the seed is sown to germinate it, and to give the plants a good start. We sow the seed both ways, with a seeder. This seeding both ways is rather important, as it will keep one from having bare spots in the field."

Much of the plowing on this farm is done with a Big 4 tractor, which develops 30 horsepower on the drawbar. It pulls a Reeves plow, which consists of eight 14-inch bottoms. The cost of wages of the engineer and plowman, plowing with this outfit, Mr. Caldwell said, is 65 cents an acre, including the and the depreciation is figured on the basis of the outfit lasting 1,000 days. It burns about 5 gallons of gasoline an hour, when it is plowing from 6 to 7 inches deep in ordinary bottom loam soil.

The engine is equipped to burn kerosene, also, but the difference in the price of these fuels has not been high enough to cause Mr. Caldwell to adopt this fuel. He said that the engine would run better with the gasoline, although it will burn kerosene readily enough. A great deal less gasoline is burned, so the saving would not be so very large.

This plowing outfit has been a very profitable investment for Mr. Caldwell, for the plowing cost on this farm when horses are used is about $1.30 an acre. The outfit has been very satisfactory and the repair bill has been light. Little trouble has been encountered in the tractor packing the soil; of course, it is not used when the soil is too wet.

While it is true that a horse plow may run at times when the soil is too wet for a tractor, it is also true that a tractor may be run for a longer number of hours in the day; indeed, it may be run day and night if desired. Mr. Caldwell has not run the outfit at night, but he can readily enough. In rush times it is operated most of the time in daylight. When the engine is not being used for plowing it is run on other farm work, such as silo filling, threshing, hauling and running the feed mill.

The outfit is of special advantage in plowing for wheat, Mr. Caldwell said. Wheat plowing comes at a very hot time, and the temptation is to run the plow shallow, and thus increase the speed. The early plowings usually give the larger yields; it is important that the soil should be stirred soon after the grain shocks are removed. One can get over the land rapidly if an engine is used.

About 20 hands are used the year around on the Caldwell farm, and this is sometimes increased to twice that many in the summer. The married men are paid $35 a month, and they are given the ordinary extras like a house, garden, fruit, chickens and the like. The unmarried men get $30 a month, and they board with the married men, 16 cents a meal being paid for this service by Mr. Caldwell. In addition, some of the men who are doing specialized work, like caring for the cattle and running the tractor, get larger wages.

The Caldwell farm is a wonderfully well organized place, where a remarkably high class Angus herd is kept. The success of his herd is pointing the way for other men who are interested in this breed in the west.

The change in the live stock methods on the Caldwell farm in the last ten years illustrates in a general way the evolution in farming in northern Missouri. Up until the start was made with the Angus many hundreds of steers were fed every year, and there was considerable profit made in this work, too, in the early days, before the rise in price of land and grain. With the upward trend of prices for feeds and the feeders, however, it was found that the profits were decreased. Grade cattle could not make a very efficient use of the crops from high priced land.

Increasing land prices have done much to force better methods of live stock farming in Missouri, for scrub stock cannot be expected to return the profit on high priced land that good animals will give. On some farms there was a change to grain farming after this increase in land values but grain farming has failed to give so good a profit in Missouri as live stock, when it is efficiently managed.

GILLAM'S TALK

DISCUSSES BEFORE CLUB THE CHOOSING OF A VOCATION.

BUSINESS IS CHRISTIAN

Principals of Christ's Religion Are the Fundamentals of All Success, He Says.

Business furnishes as many persons with a vocation as all other fields of work combined, yet most of the persons in business have not chosen it as their vocation, but have taken it up by accident, because circumstances have forced them into it, said S. G. Gillam, president of the Gillam-Jackson and Loan and Trust company, to the members of the Young People's club of the First Presbyterian church last night.

"In fact, that is my own situation, for as a young man I had planned for other work than that in which I am now engaged."

He told his hearers that many of them would do well to choose a business career, choose it carefully, for the business world is in great need of more Christians in it. A business conscience is a reality, he said, despite the fact that some persons still scoff at the idea, and it is to strengthen and increase this business conscience that more Christians are needed in addition to those already in business.

Mr. Gillam does not believe that a person need be discouraged at the idea of trying to engage in a business and run it according to his religious ideals. The two fit well together toward making a success, for the fundamentals of Christianity are the very principles which the business world today regards as necessary to build a strong and permanent business, one that will retain the confidence of the people.

As to which line of business should be chosen, Mr. Gillam said that the only advice he could give was to follow that for which you have the strongest inclination. The struggle in that field will be hard enough.

He gave two general rules fundamental to success in any line. The first is: Be industrious. Hard work, and continued hard work, is the only thing that brings success. The second is: Be frugal. The high cost of living in the home and in conducting business today makes it more than ever necessary to watch expenses, he said.

In defining success, Mr. Gillam said that it is not to be counted in dollars and cents. The man who makes an honest living, supports his family or those dependent on him comfortably and saves just enough to keep him independent in his old age has made a tremendous success, he thinks.

Mr. Gillam closed his talk with the following statement:

"Unless you have a positive inclination toward some profession, try to select some line of business that is attractive to you, work, and I think you will never be dissatisfied with the results."

SOLDIERS RETURN

COMPANY F PRAISED AT NEVADA ENCAMPMENT.

HONOR IN SHAM BATTLE

Prepare For Next Year's Campaign in the Ozarks—Pay Roll Curiously Made Out.

Company F returned last night from the annual encampment of the Missouri National Guard at Nevada, and brought back with it its share of the honors of the week's work at war.

First Lieut. Loren DeMotte, who commanded the company, said that his men were the first to break through the line of defense of the Blue Army in the sham battle. The company was highly complimented by the regimental officers for its conduct and drill. Not one of the forty-two men had to be disciplined for any breach of regulations.

The work was hard and the weather was hot one or two days, but Lieut. DeMotte said the men did not complain and took a real interest in their work. They were well fed and had comfortable quarters, and the men enjoyed the week in camp.

Three of the men were overcome with heat and had to be taken to the hospital, but their cases were not serious. In each case the men were all right again in the course of two or three hours.

General Clark, commander of the Missouri National Guard, said that the Fourth regiment is the finest disciplined body of men he has ever seen in the National Guard.

Lieut. DeMotte said today that the company here would begin at once to prepare for next year's encampment. The men will be drilled every Thursday night, and exhibition drills will be given frequently. The company intends to work for the best possible perfection in its drill, preparatory to the trip to the Ozark mountains next summer, where the encampment will be held.

At next summer's encampment the state troops will be divided into two divisions. They will be landed in the Ozarks, about fifty miles from each other and will begin a campaign, coming together in a sham battle. The remainder of the time in camp, which will be about fifteen days, will be spent in drills and target practice on grounds near some one of the Ozark rivers.

The total amount of pay received by the members of Company F for their week in camp was $350.74. In making out the pay roll, Lieut. DeMotte had to specify the exact number of coins and bills of different denomination necessary to give each man his pay. He received five twenty-dollar bills, three ten-dollar bills, fourteen five-dollar bills, seventy two-dollar bills, five one-dollar bills, seven fifty-cent pieces, five quarters, seven dimes, four nickels and nine cents.

A GOOD CONCERT SUNDAY.

More Attended the Music at the Normal Park Yesterday Afternoon Than Week Ago.

The Maryville band gave its second Sunday afternoon concert at the Normal park yesterday. The program was a good one and was well played.

More persons attended the concert yesterday than did a week ago. The crowds have not come up to the size of those of last summer, however, and the support given the band is not so good as it was last year. Most of the persons attending were Maryville citizens.

For the present, anyway, the band will continue to give the Sunday concerts.

ELLISON TO BE SPECIAL JUDGE.

Maryville Jurist Has Been Called to Sit in Harrison and Mercer County Criminal Cases.

Judge W. C. Ellison will go to Bethany, Mo., Friday to sit as special judge in a criminal case.

Monday, September 7, he will go to Princeton, Mo., to act as special judge in the murder case that is attracting so much attention just recently. It is the case in which Byrd Jones, Frank Rollins and Charley Bryant are charged with the murder of H. P. Sisco, night policeman. Sisco was killed in trying to arrest thieves who had broken into one of the business houses. The accused men are thought to be the thieves.

MANY ATTENDED UNION SERVICES

Half Had to Stand Last Night, But More Chairs Will Be Provided Hereafter.

The first of the open air union church services was attended last night by nearly twice as many persons as chairs had been provided for. This lack of seats was due, however, to a mistake in the order, and at the rest of the services enough chairs will be provided for all.

The change of place from the Franklin school grounds to the square proved very convenient. The lights and speaker's stand were already at hand, and with Main street scrubbed and roped off and furnished with chairs it made a very comfortable place for the service. Many cars were parked along Fourth street.

The Rev. L. M. Hale of the First Baptist church will preach at next Sunday's services, and the Presbyterian choir will furnish the music.

TOPEKA SCHOOL MAN HERE.

H. B. Wilson Lectures to Normal Students On Educational Topics.

H. B. Wilson, superintendent of the public schools of Topeka, Kan., is at the Normal school this week. This morning he lectured to the students in assembly.

In beginning, Mr. Wilson said that as nearly as he had been able to observe the educational conditions of Missouri, the correspond to those of Kansas. In each state one-third of the entire teaching force is in some sort of summer school, either state university, agricultural college or normal school. This fact, according to Mr. Wilson, is one of the favorable indications to be seen in the ranks of the teaching profession today.

"The responsibility of the teacher today," he said, "is that of reaching all of the children of all of the people."

He added that the richness of the modern curriculum is significant. The common objection which is raised to it is that so many things cannot be well done. But if every child is reached the curriculum must contain the widest diversity of subject matter.

The old curriculum, working on the hypothesis that the child is an adult in miniature, was narrow and contained barely the fundamentals of education. The modern conception of the child is changing. We know that his physical growth is not a gradual process, but goes by fits and starts, and that in each period of a child's growth some different thing will appeal to him. Consequently music, drawing, agriculture and several types of vocational training have been added to the curriculum of today.

As the child undergoes this normal series of changes, the school must be broad enough that the uppermost interest in the child's mind at the time may feed itself to the full. This gives the child some conception of the thing which he would like to take up as a life work.

"Many instructors think," said Mr. Wilson, "that the great and good men are the people who are made to do the things which they cannot do. This is not true, nor can it ever be so."

"The broader opportunity of the public mind, then, is not only to give the child a more comprehensive view of the studies, but to give him some idea of what he is to do, and last but not least, to give him a sympathetic appreciation of what other people do."

Fairfax Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cook of Fairfax motored to Maryville Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. B. E. Condon and family. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Condon, who has been their guest for the past two weeks.

SPADE VS. CLUB

IRON WEAPON DOES MOST DAMAGE IN FARMERS' FIGHT.

TROUBLE IS OVER ROAD

Ben Auffert Starts Quarrel With Overseer A. J. McKillop and Their Sons Join In.

Ben Auffert struck A. J. McKillop in the face with his fist. McKillop's son, Will, cut a gash in Auffert's head with a spade. Leo, son of Auffert, hit A. J. McKillop on the back of the head with a club. Will swung his spade a second time and cut a gash in Leo's head, and by that time the whole family got mixed up in the fight.

All this happened this noon at the Auffert farm, south of Maryville, and is a result of the trouble Mr. Auffert has been having over the public road along his place.

Mr. Auffert is now under $200 bond to appear in the September term of circuit court, charged with obstructing the highway. He had been ordered, as the law requires, to cut his hedge fence that bordered the road, but instead of that built a wire fence outside of the hedge. This fence, it is claimed, is in the public road, and the trouble over this question has been going on for more than a month.

Last Friday Mr. Auffert came to Maryville to confer with the county court and township board, asking them to inspect his road. He said that the drainage ditches at the side of the road had been made too deep and the road graded in such a way that he could not drive on it with a buggy.

Saturday, Floyd Westfall and John Thornhill of the county court and E. H. Bainum of the township board went to inspect the road. They found it in good condition and commended A. J. McKillop, the road overseer, for his work on it. They told him to dig the ditch on the Auffert side a little deeper. They had finished it just at noon, when Mr. Auffert and his son, Leo, came up to them, and Mr. Auffert asked where he could get enough dirt to fill the ditch. Mr. McKillop replied that he could get it almost any place around there, and with that Mr. Auffert struck him.

Will McKillop then took a spade with which they had been working and struck Mr. Auffert, cutting a gash in his forehead. Leo Auffert struck Mr. McKillop in the back of the head with a club, and in turn received a cut on the head from the spade by Will McKillop. By that time Fred Auffert and Mrs. Auffert had come from the house. A general fist fight and argument ensued.

No one was seriously hurt in the affair, although a doctor had to be called and took several stitches in the wounds of Mr. Auffert and his son.

Mr. McKillop came to town at once to see the prosecuting attorney, but there probably will be no charges of assault made against either of the parties.

HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

Young Weller of Maitland in Serious Condition From Injuries.

Hiram Weller of Maitland was seriously injured Sunday night when the auto he was driving turned turtle and went over a 12-foot embankment into a ditch. Both young Weller and his companion, Paul Ricker, were pinned under the car, but Ricker escaped unhurt. The accident happened about 10 o'clock Sunday night, within a short distance of Maitland, and was discovered in a few moments by some passing autoists. Weller was pinned under the driver's seat and was extricated with difficulty. His shoulder is wrenched, his arms bruised and his body badly burned by the acid in the batteries in the car. He suffered internal injuries and is in a critical condition. No improvement was found in his symptoms Monday.

The injured young man is a son of J. Ed Weller of Maitland and a grandson of E. F. Weller, president of the Farmers bank of that place.

SUNDAY'S BALL GAMES.

A Day of Ninth Inning Rallies and Victories for Maryville Teams.

In a slugging ninth inning rally the Maryville All Stars yesterday overcame a two-run lead and defeated Shenandoah 4 to 3.

The game was played before one of the largest crowds at Riffe's Park this season. Until the eighth inning the All Stars did not score. Then they made one run. Coming to bat in the last half of the ninth, with the score standing 3 to 1 in Shenandoah's favor, Miller knocked a three base hit. He was brought in on Ernest's single who in turn scored on Carmichael's three bagger. Vaughn made first on a fielder's choice when Carmichael was thrown out at home, stole second and scored the winning run a moment later on Alley's single over third. Carmichael struck out twelve men. The All Stars will probably play Hopkins next Sunday.

Pirates Defeat Guilford 5-3.

The Maryville Pirates went to Guilford Sunday and defeated the Guilford ball team 5 to 3. With the score 3 to 1 against them, the Pirates came to bat in the first half of the ninth inning, made four runs and shut Guilford out in the last half of the inning. The feature of the game was a triple play by the Pirates, Woodard to Scott to Tilson. Each team made six errors. The Pirates made four and Guilford three errors.

HINDUS USE BULLETS AND HOT WATER

Rejected Asiatics Sweep Canadian Officers Off Ship.

Vancouver, B. C., July 20.—Hindus aboard the Japanese steamer Komagata Maru here repelled a boarding party of armed guards sent out by the Canadian immigration authorities with bullets and a stream of hot water, after they had forcibly taken the stokers from the hold of the vessel.

Several white men were seriously injured attempting to board the Komagata Maru and two or three Hindus shot. The white men were roughly handled by the Hindus on gaining the deck.

Those injured are Chief of City Police, MacLennan, seriously; Captain Robertson of the Sea Lion, cut over eye by flying glass; Inspector Scott, knocked unconscious; Detectives Ricci and Scotts. Detective Tinsdale, cut on lip; L. H. Taylor and G. L. Minnitt, both injured about the head, Taylor seriously; Detective McLeod, arm hurt; Detective McArthur, injured, fell overboard; Inspector Wilber, hit on head, badly cut.

The steamer arrived three months ago with 338 Hindus, who claimed as British subjects the right to land in Canada. The Canadian immigration officials refused them admission on the grounds that they were undesirable persons.

The report as given out by the immigration department states that "shortly after the captain of the steamer reported that the passengers prevented him from getting steam up and asked for assistance, 100 policemen and immigration officials went out to the vessel in the largest tug available, but were unable to gain the deck of the steamer in the face of the stubborn resistance offered by the Hindus on board, who, from all parts of the ship, hurled down on the officers coal, iron bars, pieces of machinery, hatchets and clubs, injuring many men and smashing the windows of the tug."

Ice Field Halts Rescue Ship.

The ice field was so heavy that the Kit was unable to approach nearer than 120 miles to Wrangell island, and finally abandoned the attempt.

July Clearing Sale Merchandise may be charged if you have an account. Responsible accounts invited.

This Is The Last Week Of Our Annual July Clearance Sale

EVERY article in the various departments
throughout our entire store was bought
with the idea of selling it at a certain fixed price—a legitimate price.

As we must have very large stocks in order
to give the best service, it is only natural that this season each year finds a certain quantity of merchandise in nearly every department.

The sole object of this annual July Clearing
event is to clean up these stocks and enable us
to start all over again with each department filled with new goods—and it also gives to the people of Nodaway county the opportunity to obtain this seasonable merchandise at prices far
below their actual values.

It is an annual demonstration that there is a vast difference in "bargains," just as there is a vast difference in values—and the number of new friends it makes for this store become greater each year.

The "Schuttler" Costs Less Per Year Than Any Other Wagon Made

The cheapest priced wagon is the one which will save you the most money—and there is far more than the first cost to be taken into consideration with most wagons.

But with "The Old Reliable Peter Schuttler" it's different. With it, the first cost is practically the only cost. It's built right and stays right. It saves repair bills; it avoids break-downs; it reduces the after-purchase expense—and it wears longer than any other wagon built.

And with all its cost-reducing, time and trouble-saving features, the first cost of the "Peter Schuttler Wagon" is only slightly more than the first cost of the inferior makes.

And every cent of the extra cost goes into extra quality. There's no more profit on a "Peter Schuttler Wagon" than on the so-called other standard makes. The difference in price is due entirely to the difference in material and the difference in the way this material is put together. It is this difference which makes the "Peter Schuttler" by far the cheapest priced of all wagons in the long run.

Nothing but the very highest grade, specially selected hickory and white oak is good enough for the "Peter Schuttler Wagon." And even it does not come up to the Schuttler standard until it is seasoned by natural air-dried process for from three to five years in sheds specially built for the purpose.

Great pains are taken by long-experienced wagon makers and skilled blacksmiths in the manufacture of the "Peter Schuttler Wagon." The best of refined iron is used, and it's shrunk on hot, thus charring and preserving the wood and insuring a perfect fit. Every wheel is measured and its tire welded to exact size, then brought to a cherry heat, and shrunk into place by being plunged into cold water, in the same way that the old original Peter Schuttler did it sixty-nine years ago. That is why the tires never come loose on a "Peter Schuttler Wagon."

Every piece of wood in the "Schuttler" gear is given a bath in boiled linseed oil, thereby closing the pores and protecting it against moisture. The paint is ground in linseed oil and then spread on smoothly and evenly with a brush—not dipped. It takes three years to get an axle in right condition for a "Peter Schuttler Wagon," and even then it must pass the regular rigid inspection to which every "Schuttler" part is subjected before it can be used.

These are only a few of the many reasons why a "Peter Schuttler" is the most economical wagon you can buy. Come in and inspect it.

HUERTA NOT IN CHEERFUL MOOD

Forced Delay in Leaving Mexico Vexes Ex-President.

EXPECTS TO GO TOMORROW.

Fallen Despot and General Blanquet Will Sail on German Cruiser Dresden and Rest of Party on Chartered Mexican Steamer.

Puerto Mexico, July 20.—Ex-President Huerta and his party expect to leave here tomorrow. Generals Huerta and Blanquet, accompanied by three or four aides, will sail on the German cruiser Dresden. The others will go on the steamer Mexico of the Mexican Navigation company, which, it is said, has been chartered for this purpose. The presidential guards will leave early in the morning for the capital.

The refusal of President Carranza to let the fugitive president have the use of the gunboats Bravo and Zaragoza has occasioned undisguised chagrin, but there appears to be no remedy. As if to give color, however, to the assumption that the government really needs these boats, the Zaragoza put out to sea, laying her course in the direction of Havana.

The only order the commander received was to go to Havana. It was reported that the Zaragoza intended to pick up at that port some prominent Constitutionalists and bring them to Mexico to enter into personal negotiations with the new provisional president.

The United States cruiser Des Moines, which has been lying off the harbor, immediately followed the Zaragoza.

General Huerta spent the entire day in his car smoking an endless number of cigarettes and chatting with friends. His humor was much less cheerful than at any time since leaving the capital and those about treated him with the greatest consideration.

ZAPATISTAS ACTIVE

Banditti Pillaging and Burning Villages Near Mexico City.

Mexico City, July 20.—Fugitives who arrived here from Contreras and Tizapan, villages a few miles from Mexico City, report a serious movement by the forces under Zapata. Contreras was attacked by the Zapatistas. The garrison, consisting only of seven federal soldiers, was driven off, and the Zapatistas, to the number of several thousand, started pillaging and burning the houses. Tizapan is only twelve miles from here and connects directly with the capital by an electric railway.

Many of the inhabitants of villages in the federal district are fleeing to the capital for protection. They fear outrages and an attack by the Zapata adherents on the suburbs.

Federal troops were dispatched from the capital to check the advance of the marauders.

CHICAGO VICE WAR

Remnants of Segregated District to Go as Result of Killing.

Chicago, July 20.—The wiping out of the last remnants of Chicago's old segregated district was promised as a result of the pistol battle there Thursday night, in which one detective was killed and two policemen and two citizens shot.

The beginning of two investigations into the tragedy was marked by State's Attorney Hoyne's charge that the police version of the shooting was untrue. The police had asserted that the two squads of detectives and plain clothes men did not recognize each other and lost their heads.

The state's attorney also declared that facts had been suppressed, and sent his own men into the district to make a complete report.

The renewal of the war on vice in the district was marked by several raids. Squads of police visited several houses, and, finding them deserted, broke up the furniture, tore out the telephones and made the places uninhabitable.

Will Probe Charges.

Washington, July 20.—Charges made by Benjamin L. ## MME. CAILLAUX PLACED ON TRIAL

Slayer of Figaro Editor Maintains Calm Demeanor.

SECRET WAY TO COURT ROOM

Subterranean Passage and Mysterious Stairs Used—Seven Physicians Will Testify For Defense Among Number of Additional Ones Summoned.

Paris, July 20.—The trial of Madame Caillaux for the killing of Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro, began today. Madame Caillaux is maintaining a calm demeanor and expressed great confidence in the outcome of the case. Madame Caillaux left her old quarters in St. Lazare prison in an automobile, accompanied by three inspectors, and was transferred to the Palais de Justice, where she occupies a cell adjoining the one once occupied by Marie Antoinette.

To reach the assize court she was conducted through a subterranean passage and by secret stairways and thus escaped the eyes of the curious.

Counsel for the defense has summoned additional witnesses, among whom are seven physicians. They are expected to give testimony regarding M. Calmette's wounds.

Madame Caillaux was visited by her husband, Joseph Caillaux, the former minister of finance and once premier of France. Because of the high position of those connected with the case the trial is attracting intense interest.

Madame Caillaux shot Calmette on March 16 in the office of Figaro. In the indictment against the defendant full weight is given to the state of mind to which Madame Caillaux was reduced by M. Calmette's campaign against her husband, which is designated as "personal and violent." The indictment also recites that the crime was committed with premeditation, and it is around the question of premeditation that the struggle between the prosecution and the defense will be fought.

Judge Louis Albanel is presiding over the trial of Madame Caillaux and Maître Labori is acting as chief counsel for the defense.

FIND BODIES OF GUARDS

Two Were Slain in Battle at Arkansas Mine.

Port Smith, Ark., July 20.—The bodies of two mine guards were found in the woods near the Prairie Creek mine. The men participated in the battle with miners at the Bache-Denman mines.

According to the affidavit of L. C. Thomas, himself a mine guard, and participant in the battle, he and six other employees left the mine while the fighting was at its height and sought to break through the attackers. The seven were captured, taken to a log house in the woods, and held for hours until two state officers arrived. Then it was one of the union men shot John Baskin, and as he fell fired a shot at Clarence Sylesberry and sent a bullet into his body as he fell.

Quimet Holds Bay State Amateur Title. Newton, Mass., July 20.—Francis Quimet, national open golf champion, was successful in defense of his title of Massachusetts amateur champion, defeating Raymond R. Gorton of Braintree, five and four in the thirty-six hole final match of the tournament at the Braeburn Country club.

Hits Wife With Flatiron; Slays Self.

St. Paul, July 20.—N. J. Ruppinger, twenty-seven years old, attacking his wife with a flatiron, seriously injuring her, and then committed suicide by drinking poison. The couple came here recently from Waterloo, Ia. The police say jealousy was the cause of Ruppinger's act.
